

SPECIAL TRAIN

Has Been Secured on the Lake Erie for Sunday.

Probably Two Hundred People Will Attend K. of P. Services at New Castle.

Ivy Lodge of the Knights of Pythias and the uniform rank have secured a special train to carry those lodges to New Castle and return Sunday.

The exact time of the departure of the train is not known but will be determined this evening, but it is thought that it will leave at 8 or 8:30 a. m., returning in the evening about 6 o'clock.

The K. of P. memorial services at New Castle is the occasion for which the excursion is given and if the weather is good, it promises to be the biggest K. of P. event ever had in that city.

Ten commandaries of the uniform rank have signified their intention of attending and twelve subordinate lodges. Two commandaries of the uniform rank from Indianapolis will be present.

Several bands will furnish the music and an excellent program has been arranged.

Hon. James E. Watson, of this city will deliver the memorial address. If the weather is unfavorable the exercises will be held in the Opera house.

The local lodges had to guarantee that seventy persons would attend, to get the special train and they have paid the money and have the tickets, which any one can procure by calling on Fred Beale.

It is thought that nearly two hundred of the Rushville Knights and their families will take advantage of the opportunity to attend these exercises.

ODD FELLOWS' MEMORIAL

Hon. Will Cumback, of Greensburg, Delivered the Address Sunday.

At Arlington Sunday, the Hon. Will M. Cumback, of Greensburg, delivered the Memorial address to the Odd Fellows of that place, mention of which has been heretofore made in this paper, but we consider the following extracts from his eloquent address of special merit:

"The cultivation of closer social relations is the very essence of all social reform. Fraternity is the foe to bigotry and intolerance. It loosens the grip of sectarianism from the throat of Christianity, and is a potential force in liberating patriotism from the manacles of partisanship. It dethrones dogmas and defies truth. It substitutes self-sacrifice for selfishness, and prepares the barren souls of men for the reception of that precious maxim, 'The Golden Rule,' the practice of which invests humanity with the majesty of divinity, and the charms of angelic beauty. 'Peace on earth good will to men,' come to bless mankind.

"Fraternity makes its effective appeal to that noble aspiration of the soul to be worthy of confidence and love of the best and truest of the race. A man without that ambition and indifference to the commendation of his fellows, cannot be a useful member of society. It is the social condition of any people that furnishes the surest gauge by which we more definitely determine the quality of their civilization.

ROAD IS SOLD

Eugene Zimmerman is Authority for Report of Sale.

Eugene Zimmerman said last night to a reporter at the Lotos Club in New York: "I authorize you to state, as coming from me, that the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad is sold. The final details were arranged this afternoon, and the property is practically out of our hands. It has been sold at a price that is satisfactory to all parties. The exact figures will doubtless be given out by the purchasers.

"The road has been bought by a Boston syndicate amply able in every way to carry out its contract. That it will be made part of a system seems probable, but I am not authorized to indicate the plans of the new owners.

As a large former stockholder, speaking only for myself, I am well satisfied with the terms."

There is a report current that the Michigan Central is the buyer and that Pere Marquette will be bought by them also combining the three systems.

Sunday School Convention.

A Sunday School convention was held in the U. B. church at Henderson, Jackson township, Sunday afternoon, June 12. A good program had been arranged and all the speakers were present except J. O. Parker.

"Christ, the Sunday School Teacher's Model" was discussed by Revs. T. B. Gary and J. C. Hall.

"Home Influence in Child Culture," by Mrs. Emma Wright and Mrs. T. B. Gary.

"The Value of Teacher Training," by E. E. Hungerford.

The speakers all did splendidly and left with the people some very excellent thoughts. The crowd was not large but the interest was good. Mr. J. W. Hendrix was re-elected township president.

Rev. Cooke to Wed.

Rev. R. P. Cooke, of Glenwood, and Miss Carrie Montgomery, of Xenia, O., will be married Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. They will go to New Athens, O. to visit the groom's mother and will be at home to their many friends in Glenwood after July 15th.

Rev. Cooke is a promising young man, and a most excellent preacher. In the year just closed of his pastorate at Glenwood he has not only gained the respect and confidence of this congregation, but of the community as well, and all join in wishing him and his bride a long, useful and happy life.

Oil Well a Good One.

Advices from the oil field are that the gusher struck by the Rush Oil company, many of the stockholders of which live in this city, is maintaining a high pressure and is still producing forty barrels a day. Another well will be shot Monday.

SLOW GROWTH

Has Been Made by Corn in This Section of the Country

Taken as a Whole, However, Indiana Ranks Well Up With Other States.

The corn crop in Indiana is in pretty good shape except that the nights have been rather cool which has held back its growth considerably.

Wheat is advancing favorably, but of course will only make a half crop, owing to the unfavorable winter.

While the crop conditions do not seem extraordinarily good, when compared with the country at large Indiana ranks well.

The reports from Washington in part says:

"Throughout the central valleys and Middle Atlantic States the corn has made slow growth, and in Kansas and Nebraska much of the crop is still weedy. In Iowa, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana fields are generally clean, but in the Middle Atlantic States rains have interfered with cultivation. In Texas a good yield of corn is now assured, and the crop is promising elsewhere in the Southern States.

"As a whole, winter wheat continues to advance favorably, a general improvement being indicated in the Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic States. Some injury is reported, however, by the fly from Indiana and from overflows in Kansas, and harvest has been interrupted by rains in Northern Texas, and some wheat is ready for harvest in Southern Kansas, where wet soil has prevented commencement of this work.

"Wheat harvest is nearly finished in the South Atlantic and East Gulf States. On the Pacific Coast winter wheat has done well, except in California, where it has suffered from hot winds. In the last named State, harvest has begun with generally light yields.

"Spring wheat continues to make satisfactory progress, and is in very promising condition.

"Nearly all reports respecting oats indicate that the outlook for this crop is very promising. Oats are still on heading as far north as Kansas, Missouri and Tennessee.

"A fine crop of hay is generally promised in all sections."

Lost His Bride.

William Smith, a colored citizen of Carthage, owes the loss of a wife to the horse stealing epidemic that is abroad in Shelby county. For several days Shelbyville officers have been on the lookout for horse thieves, and Wednesday, Smith, who was driving to town to claim Miss Lucy Reno as his wife, encountered some horse traders on the way and offered to trade his animal.

When the Shelbyville police learned that Smith had wanted to trade his horse they immediately suspected him, and when Miss Reno learned that Smith was under suspicion she said that she would have none of him. She broke the engagement then and there and colored society in Rush and Shelby is all agog.

Fell With a Crash.

About seven o'clock this morning the part of the wall above Casady's saloon on Second street, which is being torn away preparatory to place in position a new style front similar to that of the Exchange Bar, fell to the sidewalk below with a crash and scattering bricks in all directions.

An insufficient number of uprights had been placed under the wall and the intervening section fell out. The sidewalk was pretty well covered with brick and for a while it looked like the whole front of the building was going to cave in. No one happened to be near enough the building to be in danger at the time and consequently no one was hurt.

On March 4, 1906, 85,000 red men in the Indian territory will give up tribal rule and become American citizens.

FAIRBANKS WILL ACCEPT

Is the Prediction of Mr. Watson of This City.

Hon. James E. Watson is quoted by Louis Ludlow in his political write-up this morning as saying that Fairbanks will accept the vice presidential nomination if it comes to him. Ludlow says:

Congressman James E. Watson who was here yesterday, says that he is going to tell everybody who asks him at Chicago that Senator Fairbanks, if nominated for vice president, will accept.

"I have no authority from Senator Fairbanks to say that he will accept," said Mr. Watson, "but I do not have the slightest doubt that he will. I think that he ought to accept. While I doubted the advisability of his acceptance of the vice presidency during the earlier mention of his name, the matter has now gone so far that I think he owes it to himself and to his party to take the nomination."

"No man in the national house of Representatives is more in the confidence of his fellow-member than Mr. Watson. He says that he has talked with 75 per cent of the Republican members regarding the vice presidency and that every one of them was enthusiastically for Fairbanks. He is satisfied that they will be influential factors in the convention. Watson's relations with Senator Fairbanks are very close.

ANOTHER LIQUOR CASE

Alex. McCarty, of Knightstown, Still Wanting a License.

Sheriff C. M. Christopher, of New Castle, was at Knightstown loaded down with two hundred and fifty subpoenas to serve on people whose names appeared on a remonstrance against Billy Reeser obtaining a liquor license and some of whom later withdrew their names from the remonstrance. These people are subpoenaed to appear at the court house tomorrow when the case will be tried before the county commissioners under the blanket remonstrance plan. It is alleged that some of the names were taken off without the consent of the parties. It will be learned tomorrow how many and what names are still on the remonstrance. Reeser, it is thought is trying to get a license in his name for Alex McCarty who failed some time ago to secure a license for himself.

BETWEEN FIRE AND WATER

Sunday School Excursionists at New York Meet Dreadful Death

Most of the Victims Were Women and Children who Were Powerless to Help Themselves.

New York, June 16.—One of the most appalling disasters in the history of New York, tragic in its immensity, dramatic in its episodes, and deeply pathetic in the tender age of most of its victims, took place in the East river at the entrance to Long Island sound, within a short distance of the New York shore and within sight of thousands of persons, the majority of whom were powerless to minimize the extent of the catastrophe.

By the burning to the water's edge of the General Slocum, a three-decked excursion steamer, the largest in these waters, more than 600 persons, the majority of whom were women and children, were burned to death or drowned by jumping overboard or by being thrown into the whirlpools by the lurching of the vessel and the frantic rush of the panic-stricken passengers.

Approximately 500 bodies have been recovered and are now being tagged at the morgues of Bellevue hospital and Harlem. Divers are still busy taking bodies from the hold of the vessel, which they say is choked with the remains of human beings, while bodies of scores who leaped or were thrown into the river have not been recovered.

Captain Van Schaik and his two pilots, Edward Van Wart and E. N. Weaver, have been arrested.

A SICKENING STORY

Details of One of the Worst Disasters on Record.

New York, June 16.—The three-decked excursion steamer General Slocum of the Knickerbocker Steamship company, burned to the water's edge off North Brothers Island, East river, at the entrance to Long Island sound, resulting in the death through burning or drowning of at least 600 persons, mostly women and children. Four hundred and ninety-six bodies have been recovered and divers are at work taking bodies from the hold of the steamer. The remains of many persons who leaped into the river have not yet been found, and it will be many hours before the list of dead is anywhere near complete.

The General Slocum, one of the largest excursion steamers in these waters, left Third street, East river, having on board the annual Sunday School excursion of St. Marks German Lutheran church, located in Sixth street. Her destination was Locust Grove, one of the many resorts on Long Island sound. The excursion was in charge of the Rev. George C. Haas, pastor of the church.

The vessel was commanded by Captain William Van Schaik, one of the best known boat captains in New York harbor. He has commanded the General Slocum for almost the entire time since she was built, in 1891. The number of excursionists on board is variously estimated at from 1,500 to 2,000, but according to an official statement issued by the Knickerbocker Steamship company, owners of the Slocum, the number of passengers was 873, that being one-third of the vessel's licensed capacity.

The steamer, after leaving her dock, proceeded up East river, all three of her decks being crowded with merry-makers. Bands played and the great side-wheler was decorated with flags from stem to stern.

The Slocum had reached a point near the Sunken Meadows, off 135th street, Manhattan, which is at the extreme Eastern end of Randall's Island, when fire broke out in a luncheon room on the forward deck. The blaze was caused by the overturning of a pot of grease. The headway of the vessel and a high wind almost instantly fanned the insignificant flame into a fury. Efforts were at once directed to subduing the fire, but they were futile. The blaze spread aft with almost lightning rapidity. Captain Van Schaik, in the pilot-house, had been informed of the outbreak of the fire and, realizing the danger to the excursionists, decided to send his vessel ashore at 134th street. At this point there is a number of lumber yards and several huge oil tanks, and the captain was warned that to attempt to land at this point would endanger the property and perhaps further imperil the lives of scores of people, who had already been frightened into a state of almost uncontrollable excitement.

Changing the steamer's course slightly, he headed her for North Brother Island, half a mile away. By this time the flames were rushing by leaps and bounds from the forward part of the ship aft. The great open decks, built for excursionists, with little obstruction from bow to stern, offered a clear sweep for the fire.

As the Slocum dashed forward the flames caught stanchion and cabin woodwork, eating and tearing its way across the vessel. The excursionists, but a few moments before in the full enjoyment of an ideal summer's day on Long Island sound, were driven to the after part of the steamer to escape the heat, flames and smoke that were constantly increasing. Policemen and deckhands aboard the boat struggled hard to quiet the panic, but their efforts were in vain. The wild disorder increased as frantic mothers sought their children who had been at play about the decks.

The steamer's whistle was blowing for assistance and tugs and other nearby craft answered to the call. Before any of the boats could reach the burning steamer, however, the frantic women and children began to jump overboard. The current was strong there are many whirlpools in the channel. The boats that always abound in that vicinity picked up many persons from the water, but these were only a small number of those that were seen struggling in the swift current. As the fire increased the struggle to gain a point of vantage at the stern became frightful. Women and children crowded against the after rail until it gave way and hundreds were pushed off into the river. After this there was a steady stream of persons who jumped or were thrown into the water. In the wake of the Slocum as she hurried upstream was a line of little black spots, marking the heads and bodies of those who had sought to escape the roaring furnace on the ship by throwing themselves overboard. Through all the wild panic, during all that inferno, with fire and smoke surrounding them, the officers and men of the doomed boat remained at their posts, but they were powerless to avert the catastrophe.

The Slocum got within fifty feet of the northwest point of North Brother Island and there stopped in the shallow water, while it burned to the water's edge.

St. Marks Lutheran church contained in its membership practically all those Germans of the Protestant faith within a radius of ten square blocks. The excursion was the event of the year for scores of well-to-do German families and had been looked forward to for many months. Family parties of ten or more had been made up, including in many cases the old grandmother, the mother, and the children of all ages, with a sprinkling of those men of the families who could spare a day from their work.

A bureau of information was opened in the church shortly after the first news of the catastrophe was received, and ever since there has been a constant stream of agonized men, women and children climbing the steps to ask for news of their relations or friends. As soon as news is received as to survivors or victims it is posted outside, and the information soon spreads throughout the neighborhood.

Terrell in a Stupor.

According to reports from Richmond, there is but little change in the condition of John W. Terrell, the Bluffton murderer, since his admission to the Eastern Indiana Hospital, and medical superintendent Smith says there is no probability of appreciable improvement nor decline for some time to come. "Terrell remains in a stupor," says Dr. Smith, "and but little signs of intelligence comes from his eyes. He is not violent nor raging."

Orange Township Conven- tion.

The Republicans of Orange township will meet on Saturday, June 25th at 1 p. m., at the Gowdy school house for the purpose of nominating a candidate for township trustee and a candidate for township assessor.

NOAH TRYON,
 Committeeman.

What preparations, if any have the Democrats made toward building that colored school?

The State of Kentucky does not hesitate to proclaim its allegiance to the white man's party, even if a mob of men must attempt to hang a colored woman and finally mortally wound her with a shot, to prove such allegiance.
 The woman was no doubt guilty of murder, but the people of that commonwealth have but little regard for the law.

The accident in New York Harbor yesterday was equal if not greater than the Iroquois fire and the sympathy of the entire nation goes out to the families who were robbed of a brother, sister or mother by this horrible catastrophe. It is quite noticeable that in most of the terrible accidents of this kind the victims are people who are engaged in sightseeing or pleasures of some kind which makes the accident all the more deplorable.

The editor of the Connorsville Examiner who took such delight in the recent differences in the Illinois Republican State convention, commenting on the one held by his brethren in that State "lets himself down easy" as follows:

"Illinois Democrats are holding a State convention today. They are having a hot fight on the organization of the State committee and three different factions are fighting for control. Wonder why it is the Democrats of our sister States don't pattern after the recent Democratic State convention in Indiana where all was harmony."

They are doing so.

The "summer religious" conference idea is spreading rapidly in all directions. The Episcopal church has planned a conference patterned on the Northfield and Chautauqua lines, to be held at Richfield Springs, N. Y., in August.

POLITICAL CANARD

Not True That Indiana Relies on Alabama to Present Fairbanks.

Indianapolis, June 16.—One of the wildest political canards started here apropos of the plans of Senator Fairbanks' friends during the national convention next week is that they have planned that Alabama shall present his name for vice president and that it shall be promptly seconded by Connecticut. The purpose, according to the story, is to stamper the convention so as to completely overshadow any efforts that may be made for Congressman R. R. Hitt of Illinois, and three or four other gentlemen whose states have endorsed them. It is true that Senator Fairbanks' friends have stated that Indiana will not present his name, yet they have not reached the point where they are asking any state to present him. Senator Fairbanks has announced repeatedly that he is in no sense a candidate and he will not permit his friends to ask any state to present him name. If it is presented it will be the result of a spontaneous and unanimous demand for him.

Many desks in the statehouse will be vacated during the next month as the officials are getting ready for their annual vacations. The members of the state tax board, Governor Durbin, Auditor Sherrick and Secretary of State Storms are getting ready to go at once as the state board meets July 11 and will be in session constantly until nearly the first of September. Deputy Auditor John Billheimer is now making preparations for the meeting. There is a great mass of detail work he has to perform. The board this time will assess everything but the real estate.
 A new plan was recently adopted for the purpose of getting an accurate line of the valuation of the railroad properties. Governor Durbin and the other members of the board made a trip of inspection, so when the tax agents appear with their smooth talk and plea for a reduction the members of the board will be "Johnnie on the spot" with information of their own. They will also get a similar line on the interurban systems.

Congressman James A. Hemenway of Booneville, the floor leader of the Republicans in congress, left today for Chicago. He will be among the first of the Indiana leaders on the ground for the big convention. United States District Attorney J. B. Kealing left here this afternoon for Chicago.
 Chairman Goodrich was at the headquarters today arranging matters so he can leave for Chicago some time tomorrow. Secretary Sims is going tomorrow afternoon. Senator Fairbanks will go to Chicago from Delaware, Ohio, where he has been attending a college commencement. Senator Beveridge, Governor Durbin and Congressman Watson have arranged definitely to leave here Sunday. John B.
 Cockrum and other members of the committee appointed to arrange the headquarters will leave tomorrow afternoon. The contract for the decorations was let to an Indianapolis firm, which has promised to have the headquarters ready Saturday morning.

In view of the maneuvering now going on it would not be surprising if there should be only one candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor before the convention. There is less mention of the name of Warder W. Stevens of Salem than there was recently when it was intimated that he could have the support of this county, which if true would have meant that Taggart had "O. K'd" him. But it is said now that his name won't go before the convention, although he is regarded as a good man for the place. Wm.
 A. Cullop of Vincennes is an active candidate and is a man of high standing with his party, but it is said that the "powers that be" have not picked him for the place. There is no further mention of Dan Simms of Lafayette, Major Menzies of Mount Vernon, Samuel Ralston of Lebanon, and Ben F.
 Shively of South Bend, and they will not be considered further.

Lost His Entire Savings.

Marion, Ind., June 16.—Joseph Davies of Liberty Center came to Marion to visit his sister, Mrs. George King, who, with her husband, conducts a restaurant. Davies left his coat, containing $1,070, hanging in the washroom and went into the dining-room.
 When he returned a few minutes later the money was gone. Davies had worked for years on the Toledo, St.
 Louis & Western railroad as a section hand, and had saved the money from his meager earnings. He placed it in a bank until Tuesday, when he withdrew it and started for Coffeyville, Kan., where he expected to engage in business.

Congregation Was Disturbed.

Bedford, Ind., June 16.—During services in the Church of Christ at Oolitic, near this city, lightning struck the building, tearing out the doors and badly shocking the entire congregation. Nearly 200 persons were present.
 A strong sulphur odor was noticeable, and the entire congregation rushed out during the storm into the street.

Unmindful of Self.

Hammond, Ind., June 16.—While sweethearts were standing on the railway tracks violently quarreling and unmindful of a rapidly approaching train, Fisherman Charley, as he is known, an eccentric character living a hermit life, pushed them off, but was himself caught. He was hurt internally and both arms were broken.

Dentists Meet.

QUAY'S LAST FIGHT

An Interesting Incident of the Historic Statehood Struggle in the Senate.

"WHIPPED TO A STANDSTILL"

Congressman Charles B. Landis Gives the True Inwardness of Notable Bout Between the Late Senator Quay and Senator Beveridge.

Senator Quay's death has brought out many stories of the great Pennsylvania politician, but none is more interesting than one told by Representative Charles B. Landis of Delphi about the now historic statehood struggle between Quay and Senator Beveridge of Indiana. Mr. Landis' story has some additional interest from the fact that it appeared in the last issue of the Indianapolis Journal.

"Speaking of Senator Quay," said Representative Landis at the Columbia Club, "reminds me that the only real defeat Quay ever suffered during the eight years I have been in congress was at the hands of Senator Beveridge.
 Our junior senator tackled Quay and whipped him to a standstill. He not only did that but he made Quay admit that he was whipped."

"It was when the bill for the admission of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona to statehood was up for consideration. Quay had all sorts of interests in New Mexico and Arizona, including railroads, mines and ranches and after planting some senatorial seed which he thought would grow and ripen about the time statehood came along, he arranged for a unanimous report from the house committee on territories of a bill admitting the three territories. It was called the omnibus bill, and it did not take long for the leaders to discover that the bill was going through the house on a gallop.
 The way had been prepared for it, Quay having planned it all. He knew his power in the senate, and did not think for a moment there would be any opposition there."

"Beveridge was chairman of the committee on territories. He held the bill back, and when Quay requested a report Beveridge replied that the committee was not ready to report, that the committee had not had time to give the matter the consideration it demanded. Quay was fairly consumed with indignation. He was accustomed to having his own way, and the mere thought of a young senator like Beveridge standing in his path and shaking his fist in his face almost crazed him. Quay went to Florida for two months, returned in the midst of warm weather, as congress was about to adjourn, and coolly announced that his statehood bill would pass or there would be no adjournment. Beveridge replied: 'All right we will stay here all summer.' And for several days there was as interesting a parliamentary contest as has ever been seen in congress. Quay was mad, downright mad. He could not conceal his anger.
 Beveridge never lost his head. He was deference personified and the senate never before realized into what graceful sentences senatorial courtesy could be weaved until Beveridge got to assuring Quay of his esteem, his friendship, his affection, his love, his everything—except his consent that the statehood bill should pass."

"When the fight started not one person in fifty in Washington but thought Beveridge was walking through a slaughter house to an open grave.
 Quay could not stand a summer campaign, and so a truce was agreed on and the bill went over to the next session, with the understanding that it should have the right of way. Congress adjourned and Beveridge put in the summer loading up. He visited the territories and amassed a fund of information that was astonishing. In addition he studied the history of the admission of all the states to the Union, packed his mind with facts and when the next session opened was ready. So was Quay. Day after day the contest went on. The Democrats favored statehood, knowing the three territories promised to be Democratic, and that meant six additional senators. They flew to the assistance of Quay. Beveridge did not seem to need help. Indeed, the older Republican senators, who had seen Quay do so many things in a roughshod way and with an iron hand, appeared to rejoice silently at the plight of the boss, who had boasted of never having lost a battle."

"I have seen Beveridge engaged in that contest with a half-dozen opponents at one time and clean them out beautifully, put them out of business like a trained athlete boxing with amateurs. His conduct was simply a delight to Colonel 'Pete' Hepburn, the most masterful debater in public life.
 His undying admiration Beveridge won by that fight. The contest held the boards during the entire session, Quay demanding an immediate vote, or that a day be set for a vote, and Beveridge insisting on further time for deliberation, consideration and discussion.
 Beveridge had but one goal toward which he fought and that was to fight off a vote, for he knew he was in a hopeless minority. I have never seen a greater victory won in the senate. None who was not a consummate parliamentarian and tactician could have won it. It was a victory for endurance, courage and industry. It was Quay's last fight. He never mustered courage to make another. In that fight Beveridge made history. But for him New Mexico and Arizona would each today be a state."

LOST A THOUSAND

Russians Meet a Serious Reverse North of Port Arthur.

RETREAT IN DISORDER

Great Japanese Victory Is Reported From Fouchou Where Seven Thousand Russians Fled.

They Left a Thousand Dead and Abandoned Their Guns to the Victorious Enemy.

Tokio, June 16.—News has been received here, but has not yet been officially published, of a great Japanese victory near Fouchou on the railway, seventy miles north of Port Arthur.

The Russians, it is said, were overwhelmed, lost a thousand men, left all their guns on the field and retreated in disorder. The Russians to the number of 7,000 men are now in full flight toward Tshi Chalao and Kai Cow.

Battle of Vafangow.

Liao Yang, June 16.—The fighting at Vafangow (about fifty-five miles north of Port Arthur) was renewed yesterday and is still proceeding. No details are obtainable, but there are persistent rumors that the Russians were partly successful, destroying three squadrons of cavalry and making prisoners of sixty men. The Russian casualties in the fighting Tuesday were 308 men killed or wounded. The Japanese casualties are not known.

ANXIOUS RUSSIANS

News Supply Seems Wholly Lacking
 at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—No word, official or otherwise, has been received from the far East whence everyone is eagerly expecting news of serious fighting on land or sea. The knowledge that Vice Admiral Skrydloff's cruisers had slipped their moorings and gone southward, the reports from abroad of transports fired on by Russian vessels in the Korean straits, and the news of heavy fighting near Yafangow, north of Port Arthur, all combined to arouse the expectation of the public to a high pitch. But if all the wires were cut east of Balkal there could not be a more complete lack of news.

Vladivostok Squadron Active.

Tokio, June 16.—The Vladivostok squadron evidently attacked the Japanese transports Hitachi and Sado off Iki Island. The details of the attack have not been received here.

"MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME"

How a Song Won the Hearts of Confederate Veterans.

Nashville, Tenn., June 16.—A sweet-voiced young woman of Norfolk, Va., Miss Mary K. Ewell, maid of honor for the South, by her singing of "My Old Kentucky Home," won for Louisville the reunion next year of the United Confederate Veterans. It was after the old veterans had chosen Lieutenant General Stephen D. Lee as their commander-in-chief and had listened to a stirring speech by Colonel Bennett H. Young of Louisville, extolling the beauties, capabilities and hospitality of his home city, that Miss Ewell was escorted to the front of the stage. Her voice thrilled the great crowd that filled the tabernacle, and the last note of the song had barely left her lips when the convention went wild with shouts of "Louisville!" "Louisville!" Seconding speeches were unnecessary.
 The choice of the veterans was unanimous. The date will be determined later.

Revolution Practically Certain.

Tangier, June 16.—French occupation is urged as the only remedy for the serious internal condition of Morocco. A revolution is practically certain within a couple of months and it will be supported by the entire educated class. The sultan's authority is virtually non-existent, and until the country is occupied Europeans are on the edge of a volcano. Should France avoid her responsibility, America or Great Britain may be forced into energetic action, thus creating a situation similar to that existing in Egypt.

The Daily Republican

RUSHVILLE, IND., JUNE 16, 1904

LOCAL BREVITIES

This is undoubtedly the season of the year for the man behind the hose.

The proposed street fair at Connersville will not be held, a petition having been filed by remonstrators which proved effective.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the relative standing of the base ball clubs in this vicinity. Rushville leads with a per cent. of .823.

Hobing, the new pitcher for Greensburg Reds, is said to be a winner. He lost his game to Danville yesterday by the team making three bad errors in the first winning.

The people of Rushville are fast appreciating our efforts to give them a good up-to-date daily and are emphasizing it by their subscription. If you are not taking it, SUBSCRIBE NOW.

Miss Henrietta Coleman delightfully entertained a number of her friends at whist last night at her home on Third street in honor of the Misses Coats, of Chicago, who are visiting with Miss Coleman.

The town pump which has stood in open competition with the "juice stores" and hydrants for a number of years, refused to act properly this morning and was given some needed attention.

A prominent young man while riding down Second street last night on a bicycle passed directly in front of the nozzle of a hose held by a young lady, who exclaimed "Oh!" as he passed her.

Rev. T. H. McConnell will arrive in this city from his trip abroad next Monday. He will preach at Wilmington, O., on Sunday, starting for home the next day. He will preach here on Sunday, June 26th.

The Fayette county fair will be held Sept. 7-8-9 at Roberts Park near Connersville. The program will consist of band music, base ball, speed contests, motor cycle and foot races, besides many other attractions.

On account of the rain the lawn fete at the Christian church last night was turned into an ice cream social which was given in the church basement. The affair proved to be quite a success in every way.

Contractors Dunn and Kenner who are building the handsome new veranda to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Muire, corner Third and Jackson streets, have their work about complete. The veranda is a very attractive one and extends on the east and north sides of the house.

Marriage license has been issued to Melvin E. Rector and Nora D. Brown.

Yesterday evening, Mrs. Mickelson, aged 75, and living on South Pearl street, fell out of a chair at her home and fractured her right arm. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Wooden and Mrs. Mickelson is now some better.

A letter received by Rich Reed from his parents and mailed by them at Kansas City, states that they will spend a couple of days at Kansas City with two more at St. Louis, and that they will be in Rushville about next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Miss Belva McBride lost an initial burnt wood button on Sunday, June 5th, somewhere between her home on First street and the Christian church, probably on Morgan or Fifth streets. The finder will confer a favor by returning same to owner.

Greenfield Republican: "Hancock county never looked better than it does this spring. The country is improving every year and the county that can beat Hancock would be awarded first premium. Where is the county that can beat it?"

Manager James Geraghty of the base ball club has received two frames of individual pictures of the members of the crack Indianapolis Reserves, who are to meet the locals here Sunday. The pictures are on exhibition in the windows of Cowing Bros. and Bliss & Cowing.

Cards have been received here announcing the wedding of Charles W. Mahin, formerly trustee of Rushville township to Bessie Ina Dille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dille, of Angola, Indiana on Wednesday, June 22. They will be at home to their friends after July 12th.

Melvin E. Rector, of Anderson, Ind., and Miss Nora D. Brown, daughter of Daniel Brown, living south west of the city, were united in marriage at the parsonage last night at eight o'clock by Rev. W. W. Sniff. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Rector left last night for Anderson in which city they will reside.

A. C. Brown, Rev. McGary, and the Misses May and Florence Amos and Mary Lewis while returning last night in a carriage from Springdale, Decatur Co., where they had been attending the Presbytery, collided with a buggy driven by Frank Brown and a friend. Owing to the inky darkness and falling rain the two drivers did not see each other in time to prevent the collision. The accident happened about midnight on the Winship pike at a point about three miles on the Winship pike south of town. The front wheels were torn off Frank Brown's buggy and it was otherwise demolished. No one was hurt and beyond a few twisted irons on the front part of the carriage, the rig occupied by the Rushville folks was not damaged.

The concrete flooring is being placed in the engine room at the power house today.

A crew of men are here from Chicago, ready to begin lining the power house smoke stack with fire brick.

The Home Furnishing company are putting some sign work out in front and beneath the large show windows.

The funeral of Edward Everetts, Jr., colored, was held at the late residence on First street this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial at East Hill.

Marriage licenses have not been issued very rapidly this month although this is said to be the ideal wedding month. Some one suggests that the reason for the falling off in the number issued is that it's cheaper to take one to the World's Fair than two.

The Indiana Supreme court recently affirmed the decision of a lower court in declaring a municipality to have a right to regulate pool rooms and affix license fees for them. The court held that pool and billiard rooms should be regulated by cities and that frequently such places tend to an increase in crime.

While fishing last night, near the Kennedy bridge, north of town, Jack Watson, boss brick layer at the power house fell off the bank and into the water. He was engaged in pushing a forked stick into the ground when the stick broke and Watson plunged headlong into the water. He was pulled out by Charles Worth and G. W. Smith, who were with him, and who pulled him out by his feet.

Tuesday night about one o'clock a noise as if some one was walking upon the roof and the loud barking of a dog awoke the family of Charles Caron at their home on South Perkins street. A ladder had been left in an upright position on the day before leaning against a window on the north side of the house and for a while it was thought some one was trying to get into the house. Mr. Caron investigated but could hear nothing beyond a noise at the foundry across the street. No one was seen to leave the foundry however.

Managers Cole and Wolverton of the City Opera House have closed a contract with the "Royal Slave" Company which showed at the opera house here last fall to open the season here at the opera house on Thursday night, August 25. "A Royal Slave" is one of the best melodramas on the road and the company which presents it is a strong one. A contract has also been closed with the Myrtle-Harder Stock Company for a week's engagement during Fair week, beginning August 29. This company has the reputation of being better than the Howard-Dorset Company which has been in this city playing every Fair week for three or four years. The Myrtle-Harder Company hails from New York and has in its repertoire "Caught in the Web," "Chatanoga," "The Ups and Downs of Life," "The Naval Cadet," "The Unknown," "Kidnapped," and many other strong melodramas, tragedies and comedies.

The funeral services will be held at the house tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, after which the remains will be interred at East Hill. The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. W. W. Sniff, of this city.

Moore Barber Shop being run unfair, it has been found by the Barbers' Union that he was right and not unfair, and has the union label in the shop, and we, as a union, do recommend that those in sympathy with the union patronize his shop as before. W. E. SARGENT, Pres. JOE DEMMER, Sec.
